The purpose is to provide a possibility for online banking and for concluding contracts online for the Bank's existing customers in the advertised range, including:

- a) enabling the Bank to identify Customers through the new electronic channel called VideoBank using the personal security elements provided by the Customers previously, and in case the statutory requirements are met, to carry out customer due diligence in the case of new Customers,
- b) to record the customer's voice and facial image via VideoBank, his/her identity documents and the side of his/her address card including address data,
- c) to request the data necessary for the conclusion of the agreement and the making of legal statements, and other instruments and documents, and to give the required information to the Customer;
- d) in the case of the services available in the VideoBank platform, to perform the concluded agreements and ensure administrative tasks,

- e) to record the content and time of the legal statements, and the identity of the person making the statement in a retrievable manner, in compliance with the criteria concerning written form as per the rules of the civil law.

Considering that the content of the communication between the customer and the Bank or its representative becomes part of the contractual legal statement, and that the Bank is obligated to provide evidence of the provision of proper information during the communication, and of the occurrence of customer due diligence in the case of any official proceedings or a potential legal dispute, the Bank records the entire communication with the customer.

The Customer is free in each case to choose, and has freely chosen banking through the VideoBank platform. The Bank expressly points out that there is a way for in-person banking at branches, and in the case of certain services other sales channels are also available, subject to the relevant terms of contract.

When the connection is established, upon login to the VideoBank platform the Bank informs the Customer of the major data protection provisions, and where detailed information is available to the Customer.

Please take note that if there are several persons participating in the video conversation, e.g. co-debtors in order to hear the information jointly, the Bank shall process the data of these persons—where it follows from the nature of the service—jointly. If the Customer does not want this joint processing, the other persons are requested to do their banking in separate video calls. In order to achieve compliance with the legal requirements and the Bank's internal regulations, the Bank has the right to ask the customers to ensure that other persons—including especially persons not involved in the given transaction—do not participate in the video recording.

The Bank shall contact the customers and prospective customers using the contact data provided in the course of the use of the VideoBank application in case the Bank finds that technical difficulties have arisen in the use of the channel. Subject to the above processing purposes, the Bank provides technical assistance to its customers and prospective customers with a view to successful banking.

Please be informed that in the event our legal person customers wish to use the VideoBank channel for banking, the Bank shall process the data of the persons authorised to act on behalf of the company in accordance with the legal requirements concerning the protection of confidentiality and data protection. As regards the protection of the data of persons having power of representation, the Bank provides the same safeguards as are ensured in the case of natural person Customers. Please take note, however, that in case a natural person authorised to represent a legal person makes a legal statement on behalf of the legal person, the data shall also be processed as data belonging to that legal person, therefore the legal person shall have the right to access such data. The retention period of these data shall be adjusted to the retention periods governing for the legal relationship with the legal person and for the relevant data.

In the course of the banking transaction, and subsequently, the Bank will try to get feedback on the appropriateness of the channel used and of this way of administration. Customers may express their opinion anonymously as well as in a personalised manner on the appropriateness of the administration and the arrangement used. When processing such data, the Bank acts in compliance with the provisions of the General Privacy Policy.
